PRESS RELEASE

OHIO LAW FIRM SETTLES WRONGFUL DEATH LAWSUIT PROMPTING TRUCKING COMPANY TO ALLOCATE FUNDS FOR DRIVER TRAINING

Akron, OH, June 1, 2015– Ohio-based personal injury law firm, Kisling, Nestico & Redick (KNR) recovers monetary settlement and convinces trucking company to enforce stricter safety measures and safer roadways.

KNR attorneys John J. Reagan and Kristen Lewis teamed up to successfully resolve a wrongful death lawsuit arising from a 2012 crash involving a tractor-trailer which tragically claimed the lives of a retired Doylestown couple. During the two years of litigation, Reagan and Lewis discovered the driver intentionally falsified logbooks in the weeks prior to the accident and the trucking company failed to properly train and supervise the driver.

The crash occurred when the driver of a semi attempted to pass the couple as they were turning left at an intersection, resulting in the fatal collision.

"No amount of money will bring this couple back, but for the family to know the roads throughout Ohio may be safer as a result of the accident, means the world to them," says Reagan.

Yet another example of KNR's litigation expertise in trucking, auto wrongful death, and significant injury cases, this case clearly demonstrates the commitment and dedication of the attorneys at KNR to keep the roads safe in our community.

Kisling, Nestico & Redick is a personal injury law firm with locations all throughout Ohio. KNR has gained a reputation as being one of the state's leading firms due to their personal service, inside knowledge of the insurance industry, and extensive legal experience.
